

Abstract of the Disclosure

A screen, for cleaning a fiber suspension, includes at least one separating unit containing a housing, a parabolic rotor, a screen basket, an accept chamber, and a reject outlet. The reject outlet is located in the vicinity of the maximum rotor diameter. The screen also includes at least one feed for dilution water located in the vicinity of the reject outlet, particularly directly below it.